WRITING

Charity is a very important thing. You just give away your money to help poor or ill people because you think they need this money more than you.

Are you one of those people who keens on charity? If the answer is positive, you should know typical ways to raise money for charity. But do you know that there are some absolutely different ways?

Surprisingly, much money that you pay for tickets to concerts ~~isn't~~ used to help other people. Some bands or singers organise charity concerts, so, as they don't get any money from that, all money is sent to special charity organisations.

You can also organise a charity concert. If you and your friends can play musical instruments, you can organise one at your school.

Would I be keen to help again next year? Certainly, yes. Today I help people, and tomorrow they will help me if I need
